Roots program a great chance for students

For a young person on the reservation, now more than ever, having a high school education is essential to finding a job.

At the same time, 60 percent of Warm Springs students who begin high school do not graduate. The goal of the Roots program is to help correct this situation.

Roots is the new alternative education program serving the reservation students. The program is part of Madras High School, based in Warm Springs.

The Roots director is Dawn Smith, longtime educator and former principal of Warm Springs Elementary School. She is working with teacher Earl Simmons. He has taught on the reservation for the past several years, and is certified to teach agriculture at the high school level.

The Roots program is open to students who have dropped out of high school, and to those who may be at risk of dropping out. A student can join the class to catch up on credits to graduate, or to improve his or her GPA.

Roots classes will begin in September. "This will be hands-on and active," Smith was saying recently. "The students will be very involved."

The previous alternative education program on the reservation took an on-line approach, allowing the students to earn credits by computer. About 12 students last year took advantage of the opportunity. The goal of roots is to have 30 students, Smith said.

Roots will have a computer component, of course, but the program is designed to be practical. "We want to provide students with every opportunity of finding a job," Simmons said.

Roots will introduce students to different careers in the broad Natural Resources field. The Branch of Natural Resources and Warm Springs Forest Products Industries are partnering in the Roots program.

Fires update

Cooler weather just in time

Tens of thousands of acres burned on the reservation over the past couple weeks. There has been good news and some bad, as the reservation again experienced a volatile fire season.

Two tribal member fire fighters, from Warm Springs Fire Management, were injured in a vehicle accident while responding to one of the many fires that broke out in mid July.

Both of the fire fighters were hospitalized, one with serious injuries. Trey Leonard of Fire Management updated Tribal Council on the situation earlier this week.

The fire fighters who were injured, he said, are very popular with all of the crew. So the accident was traumatic, adding to an already stressful time. Everyone is wishing them a speedy recovery.

During the Shaniko Butte fire, Patrick "Hermie" Boyd lost his house, his primary vehicle, four pets, and historic family items. The house was located outside of Shaniko, and burned early during this fire event.

With Leonard, Natural Resources general manager Bobby Brunoe gave an update to Tribal Council on Monday. They were joined by the inter-agency incident commanders, and BIA officials

The first part of the discussion focused on the Shaniko Butte fire to the east, then the Logging Unit fires to the west.

Later discussion focused on the overall wild land fire situation on the reservation: Why are we seeing major wildfires every summer? What if anything can be done to reduce their incidence?

Some of the cause is natural, as the reservation and surrounding region are prone to summer lightning strikes, Brunoe said.

During the storms that sparked the recent fires, Leonard said, the reservation saw 300 lightning strikes.

But at least part of the problem is the result of government policies, he said. The policy of strict fire suppression over the past 100 years is not the way the forest used to be managed, he said.

There are elders who remember when people would light wild land fires at certain times of the year for forest management. These fires would burn coolly because there was no accumulation of fuels on the ground. And this maintained the health of the forest.

K-8 Academy looking good as work finishes

Next month will see the official dedication of the Warm Springs k-8 Academy. Then in September the school will host the Back to School Barbecue and school supply giveaway.

The first event will be a ribbon-cutting on August 27, starting at 10 a.m. Officials will be on hand from the Confederated Tribes, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, Bureau of Indian Education, the USDA, and Jefferson County School District 509-J.

Federal and state lawmakers will also be invited, said Rick Molitor, school district superintendent.

The September Back to School Barbecue and School Supplies Giveaway will serve as the grand opening especially for the students and families. "The kids will have their first chance to really see the building and facilities," Molitor said.

Also in September will be the dedication of the new football stadium at Madras High School. This will be during the first home game, set for Friday, Sept. 12. Boosters will be working on how to mark the occasion, such as with a barbecue.

Showtime Schimmel wins All-Star Game MVP

Shoni Schimmel lived up to her nickname in her first WNBA All-Star Game.

Showtime Schimmel won the Most Valuable Player award in the wild All-Star game last Saturday.

Schimmel scored an All-Star game record 29 points. She had eight assists as the East pulled out a 125-124 victory over the West in the first WNBA All-Star Game to go into overtime.

Shoni is a rookie with the Atlanta Dream. She is a favorite athlete among Warm Springs residents. She has family on the reservation, and many fans who followed her stellar college career with Louisville Cardinals.

Schimmel grew up on the Umatilla Reservation, in Mission. She has a vast Native American following across Indian Country.

In the All-Star game, Shoni broke the All-Star record of 23 points set last year by Candice Parker.

Brittney Griner opened the overtime with a layup, followed by Maya Moore's 3-pointer. This put the West up 124-117 with 1:59 to play.

But Katie Douglas for the East sank a 3 to cut it to 124-120 with 1:15 to go, then Schimmel made her seventh 3-pointer of the afternoon with 41.9 seconds left. This cut the West lead to 124-123.

Tamika Catchings made a driving layup for the East, and a final turnover by the West put an end to the frenetic contest.

Schimmel was just the third reserve to start an All-Star game. And she put on quite the show: Besides hitting 3-pointers she also hit a circus over-the-head shot over Griner.

"The hoop kept getting bigger and bigger," Schimmel said. "I wanted to lay it out on the line, and that's what I did."

Shoni and the Dream will play in Seattle on Thursday, August 7. Many fans from Warm Springs are planning to attend.

Museum Youth Show

Classic old photographs of Native American youth and families—from museum archives—are a central feature of the latest Museum at Warm Springs changing exhibit.

Some photos come from the museum archives, some from the High Desert Museum, and from private collections. The photos complement the displays on youth in Native American culture.

The exhibit is "Celebrating Native American Youth: Today's Youth, Tomorrow's Leaders," and will be on display through the summer.

The museum is open 9-5 p.m. daily during the summer months. You can reach the museum at 541-553-3331.

Meanwhile the museum soon will host its annual fundraiser, the Huckleberry Harvest. The harvest this year will be at the museum, on Saturday, August 9.

Market, Re-Use It host opening celebration

The new Re-Use It shop opened last Friday, with the store owners marking the occasion with a free hot dog cookout, and cake.

This was not the official grand re-opening of Re-Use It, said Diana Macy, who owns the store and Warm Springs Market with her husband Terry.

There will be another celebration when the Re-Use It shop is complete, with a coffee shop and deli in the back area.

For now, though, the thrift store part is open. And if the opening last Friday is any indication, people are liking the new location. The parking lot on opening day was full, as people lined up at the cookout tent, then took a look around the new store.

The building has been totally remodeled, inside and out, including a higher ceiling and more shelving, a new front porch, new windows and paint.

The work is still going on, as the coffee shop and deli are not yet done.

Meanwhile, Re-Use It, managed by Terry's brother Colby Statchwick, offers all kinds of thrift store items: furniture, clothing, toys, jewelry and kitchen-ware, novelty items, among many items.

Springs Market.

The store first came in to the Macy family back in 1944, when Dan Macy and wife Priscilla bought the market from the previous owner.

Next, Jimmy Macy and his wife Luana were owners and operators; then sold to Bobby and Maria Macy, who had the store for several years.

Terry and Diana bought the market four years ago, and have now kept the store in the family for the past 70 years.

The building that now houses Re-Use It had been vacant, and earlier had been a teen center, and sporting goods store. Many years ago it was a market called Massey's Market.

There was competition between the Massey and the Warm Springs stores to also house the post office. Dan Macy won the competition, and at that point the Macys bought out the other store.

Mill Creek restoration at Potter's Ponds

Illustration of improvements/Courtesy Natural Resources Branch.

The fish really had nowhere to spawn through most of the Potter's Ponds area of Mill Creek. The creek would run quickly through a narrow channel, while the fish need a slower moving, meandering habitat for spawning.

This situation existed for decades, but soon will be quite different: The creek will run in to side channels, at a slower pace. And there will be shade, and gravel beds for spawning.

The Potter's Ponds Mill Creek project is a large-scale effort to improve fish habitat on the reservation. The first phase of the project involves moving tons of earth, re-establishing the creek as fisheries habitat. This phase involves the creation of the side channels, providing more habitat and slowing the pace of the creek flow.

The final phase will involve the planting of hundreds of trees, and other native vegetation along the newly reformed creek.

This work is funded by the Bonneville Power Administration, the Pacific Coastal Salmon Recovery Fund, and Portland General Electric, among others. Overseeing the work is the tribal Branch of Natural Resources.

The goal is to restore this stretch of Mill Creek to its original state: The area was badly damaged, starting years ago by the development of the log ponds, Potter's Ponds, on Mill Creek.

Habitat project manager Scott Turo compares the Mill Creek restoration project to the 2009 Shitike Creek project. The Shitike project was fairly large-scale, involving the creation of side channels along the creek just below the Hollywood Boulevard bridge. This has proven to be a benefit for fish and other wildlife.

The Potters' Ponds project is similar, though on a larger scale: The contractor crews, using heavy machinery, are moving much more earth than they did along Shitike. And they'll be planting much more vegetation.

The work within Mill Creek has to be done within a narrow window of time. The goal is to have the in-stream work done by mid August. So once the work began a few weeks ago, the pace was quick, and the crews stayed at it all day. The only delay happened last week, when the wildland fires on the reservation were at a peak.

Besides moving tons of earth, the construction team, BCI Contracting, is building stable structures along the creek path. These structures include large trees and boulders, stabilized to withstand the flow of the river. Once the vegetation gets going, the Potter's Ponds stretch should be good for fish.

The improvement area is about one mile in length: From the upper end of Potter's Ponds to about a half-mile downstream of the B-100 Bridge.

Jaden Sanchez is a future USA wrestling Olympian.

He is currently ranked seventh in the nation, and first in the state of Washington.

At the Idaho Regional tournament in June in Pocatello, with 11 states in competition, Jaden wrestled Greco-Roman. He placed second. In the same tournament, he wrestled freestyle and took third.

Last month Jaden also wrestled at the National tournament, held in Orem, Utah. He wrestled Greco-Roman and didn't place. But at same tournament, he wrestled Freestyle and placed fourth.

This allowed him to be placed among the All American, one of only 17 chosen for this wrestling honor.

Safety classes required for young hunters

The Branch of Natural Resources is currently transitioning to a new tribal hunter safety instructor. Due to time and training constraints, there will not be a hunter safety class this year.

In future years we will be teaching hunter safety. For this year, youth hunter education safety class opportunities are available online and throughout the counties surrounding the reservation, prior to the start of 2014-2015 Ceded Lands tribal hunting season.

Hunters under the age of 17 must complete an Oregon hunter education course, to obtain Ceded Lands hunting tags. Parents can register their youth hunters online or contact staff at Department of Natural Resources 541-553-2002 for further assistance in registration process.

Registration Process

Step 1: Find a class that you would like to attend by looking at available classes online. Course registration can be found at:

or.outdoorcentral.us/or/license.

Remember that for courses under the "Hunter Ed Class" tab you must attend each class session listed. If you choose courses under the "Hunter Ed Field Day" tab you must complete the online course or workbook before attending.

Step 2: New customer registration: select "New Customer" from the drop down box on the "Get Started" page and enter the student's last name and date of birth. Click on the "Classes/Workshops" button to proceed.

Step 3: Enter all of the student's demographic information. Important - Make sure you include a phone number and email address so that instructors can contact the student with course announcements. Hit "Continue" button and then click checkbox and hit "Continue" button again.

Step 4: Select your course and scroll to the bottom of the page and hit the "Continue" button.

Step 5: Continue through checkout process, paying with a debit/credit card. Class information will be printed on the student's receipt. Remember, if the student didn't enter a phone number and email address they will not receive important class updates. You can go back and update demographic information at any time by following Steps 2 and 3 above.

At Fire Camp

Loading the ice and water are a priority, as the day gets under way.

A number of helicopters were brought in last week to help with the containment effort.

The day starts early at the fire camp, with breakfast from the food service team (housed in trailer at right).

Head Start round up Monday

Warm Springs Head Start is holding their final Round Up on Monday, July 29 at the IHS clinic.

Please call Head Start to schedule an appointment. Call 553-3242 and ask for Danni or the Family Services staff. The Round Up includes a physical, plus hearing, dental and vision check ups.

All new and returning children need to receive these screenings and physical. This is an opportunity for families to get everything done at once, but you must have an appointment so please call Head Start today.

Community blood drive

The next Madras Community Blood Drive will be Wednesday, August 27 from 1-6 p.m. at St Patrick's Church.

To schedule your appointment call 1-800-Red Cross or go online: www.redcrossblood.org

The Museum at Warm Springs Huckleberry Harvest is Saturday, August 9 at the museum.

Howlak Tichum

Victor George Atiyeh, 1923-2014

Vic Atiyeh, Oregon governor from 1979-1987, passed away Sunday evening, July 20. He was 91.

Mr. Atiyeh was a true advocate of the Oregon tribes, and had great friends among the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs.

Among his close friends was Warm Springs Chief Delvis Heath, golfing partner. Chief Heath visited Mr. Atiyeh earlier this month, while the former governor was in intensive care in Portland.

Chief Heath on Monday began the discussion at Tribal Council as to how the tribes will pay tribute to atwai Mr. Atiyeh. Details will be worked out with input from the family.

Mr. Atiyeh was in Warm Springs just last month, for Pi-Ume-Sha, which he attended nearly every year for the past few decades.

Friend of the tribes

While in office as governor, and for all the years afterwards, Mr. Atiyeh was an advocate for the Confederated Tribes.

He served many years on the Museum at Warm Springs and Kah-Nee-Ta boards. He helped with economic development projects, such as the tribes' purchase of the Re-regulation dam, and the development of Indian Head Casino.

Mr. Atiyeh rode in the 2014 Pi-Ume-Sha Parade.

"He had a special place in the hearts of Native people," said Louie Pitt, director of tribal Government Affairs.

"He really came through for the tribes," Pitt said. "A lot of people talk about helping, but he really pulled through. He was sincere and straight forward."

Among other tributes, Mr. Atiyeh was the inspiration for the Governor's Honor Dinner of the Confederated Tribes.

Mr. Atiyeh was the first

Bust of Mr. Atiyeh at Indian Head Casino.

Arab-American governor in the U.S. He remains the most recent Republican to serve as Oregon governor.

Mr. Atiyeh was born in Portland to Syrian immigrant parents. He attended Portland public schools and the University of Oregon for three years, where he played guard for the Ducks football team.

He dropped out of college to tend to the family carpet business, Atiyeh Brothers, at the age of 21 after his father passed away. The business remains today.

He was first elected to the Oregon House of Representatives in 1958. He served three two-year terms in the House, three four-year-terms in the Senate and an additional partial two-year term in the Senate before resigning to be sworn in as governor in January 1979.

He was also considered ahead of his time in diversity, appointing the first woman to serve on the Oregon Supreme Court.

A golfer and gun collector, he was involved with the Boy Scouts of America and the Episcopal church. His political papers are archived at Pacific University.

He is survived by his wife of 70 years, Dolores, son Tom and daughter Suzanne; and brother Edward and his wife Karen. Mr. Atiyeh also is survived by five grandchildren.

Fires

With fire suppression, there comes the need to remove the fuels. But fuels reduction on the reservation has been badly under-funded in recent years, said Bode Shaw, of the BIA Northwest Regional Office.

The consequence of not funding fuels reduction, he said, is the much higher cost of responding to the frequent major fire events.

The tribes have been aware of the situation, Brunoe said, and some years ago were pursuing a bio-mass project that was intended for fuels reduction. The carbon sequestration project may be a way to begin addressing the conditions, he said.

The fires

The Shaniko Butte fire burned across 50,000 or so acres of the east side of the reservation. This fire was mostly contained as of earlier this week.

This fire appears to have had little impact on timber, said Carl West, inter-agency deputy district commander. During its first days, the fire burned quickly across the ground, blown by 20-30 mph winds, but did not get in the crowns of timber.

Councilman Orvie Danzuka also mentioned that allowable-cut timber is not in that area of the reservation.

Wildlife habitat also should recover, West said. The initial response by Warm Springs Fire Management was excellent, he said. When the inter-agency crews arrived, West said, "We were in a good situation."

About the time the Shaniko Butte fire broke out, the state of Washington was experiencing major wildfires, which threatened and destroyed several homes. For a time, the inter-agency response to the Washington fires left a shortage of crews that could help with the Shaniko Butte fire.

The Logging Unit complex fires broke out a short time after the Shaniko Butte fires.

The Logging Unit fires are along the west side of the reservation. Among the Logging Unit fires, the Bear Butte fire in was a serious threat to harvestable timber. The Camas fire was a threat to homes at Sidwalter. These residents were alert put on evacuation.

Four National Guard helicopters were brought in to help with the Bear Butte fire, said Chris Schulte, inter-agency incident commander. The helicopters are rarely brought in, showing the seriousness of the situation.

BIA Warm Springs Agency Superintendent John Halliday said containment of this fire was a priority for the agency and Natural Resources. "The Bear Butte fire was a threat to logs that are needed at the mill," he said.

The coordinated response—tribal, BIA and other agencies—stopped the fire from causing consuming major timber in that area.

Other information shared at Tribal Council on Monday, at times in response to questions from Council:

Fire Management has 86 fire fighters, 80 of them tribal members. "They are considered one of the top fire response teams in the country," Halliday said. The Hot Shots are one of the few elite fire response teams.

Arson incident

Councilman Carlos Smith asked what happened to the person who was arrested on suspicion of arson in last year's Sunnyside Turnoff fire.

The fire threatened Kah-Nee-Ta, forced its closure, and cost the resort hundreds of thousands of dollars in lost revenue.

The suspect is in federal custody, said Councilman Danzuka. There is a hearing coming up later this summer, he said.

Diabetes awareness dinner on August 12

The Diabetes Awareness and Support Group dinner is scheduled for Tuesday, August 12, at the Warm Springs Senior Center.

The dinner, from 5-6:30 p.m., is presented by the Warm Springs Model Diabetes Program. A topic of discussion during the dinner will be, "I feel good—Why do I need medicine?" The presenter will be Diana Wambaugh, family nurse practitioner.

The Sept. 16 dinner topic will be, "Medication refills and how to remember to take your medication." Presenter will be Pharmacy resident Josh Russell. October will see the Diabetes Conference, set for Oct. 8 at the community center, from 8 a.m.-4 p.m.

Roots: education program starting this fall

Simmons gives an example of the ideas he and Smith have for Roots:

First, Natural Resources has identified a timber sale, and the class visits the site. The class observes the logging operation. Next, they follow the logs through the mill process at WSFPI; and then finally to an actual construction project using the lumber.

Along the way the students see the different types of jobs involved, and get to know employers. This could lead to an internship, and then employment.

Forestry, Range and Ag, fisheries and wildlife are all potential areas of study. The cultural, historical, legal and political aspects of these fields will also be part of the curriculum.

Another project idea is to develop a greenhouse. The students would grow plants that could be marketed.

The Roots program is headquartered in trailer no. 27 at the former Warm Springs elementary school campus. The no. 27 building is clearly marked. Look for it as you approach teachers row. A neighboring trailer, and eventually the greenhouse, will also be part of the Roots mini campus.

Any student or parent who wants more information on the program should stop by trailer 27 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Monday through Friday. The sooner you stop by the better, as Smith and Simmons are preparing for the fall term.

Dave McMechan/Spilyay

Earl Simmons at the Roots trailer. He and Dawn Smith have started collecting Natural Resources studies, documents and maps useful for the upcoming classes.

“At least let us know if you’re interested,” Smith said, “so we can begin developing a list of students.”

The goal, she said, is to reclaim every student who has dropped out who is not yet 21 years old. (At 21 the student is out of the high school system.) Roots is also looking for people to be guest speakers during the semester.

“School board members are really behind us on this,” Smith said. “(Board member) Tom Norton called the other day and suggested a timber thinning operation coming up that might be of interest to us.”

The need for the Roots program is clear. Its potential is equally clear. The name of the program itself suggests as much.

The roots of a tree are its potential, and strength. The tree builds up from the roots. “It can even mean ‘to root,’ as in ‘We’re rooting for you,’” Smith says.

Cooking for College classes

Cooking for College classes are set for next Tuesday, July 29, and Wednesday, July 30. The classes will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. both days, in the basement kitchen of the Education building. Higher education and college-bound students are required to attend one of the classes. High school students are invited to attend.

Resolutions of Tribal Council

Fishing guide regulations

Whereas the Treaty with The Tribes of Middle Oregon June 25, 1855 reserved to the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon the “exclusive right of taking fish in the streams running through and bordering the Reservation”; and,

Whereas the Fish and Wildlife Committee in conjunction with the Branch of Natural Resources (“BNR”) has reviewed and proposed to the Tribal Council the 2014 Fishing Guide Service Regulations for tribal member-owned fishing guide services (340.220 On-Reservation Fishing by Non-Members) conducted on rivers bordering the reservation; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council has reviewed the proposed 2014 Fishing Guide Service Regulations and has determined that enactment of such regulations would be in the best interest of the tribe, its members, and of the natural resources of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon; and now, therefore;

Be it resolved by the 26th Tribal Council pursuant to Article V, Section 1 (I) and (u), of the Tribal Constitution and By-laws and pursuant to Warm Springs Tribal Code Section 340, that the following rules and regulations are hereby adopted for the 2014 season:

1. Tribal member preference (Resolution 8363 and 8363a) shall be used in the selection of all guides.

2. Tribal members have “exclusive right of taking fish in the streams running through and bordering the Reservation.” Any and all guide activity is to be conducted in a way so as not to interfere with any tribal member fishing from waters running through and bordering the Reservation. Guides must yield to tribal members.

3. Only tribally-permitted guide services will be allowed to bring clients onto the reservation. No other guides or their clients are allowed.

4. Approval by Tribal Council of each new guide service is required before the start of the fishing season for guide services which have not previously been approved by the Tribal Council. The Fish and Wildlife Committee will develop and approve resolution and regulations regarding all guide services with assistance from BNR staff prior to guides appearing before Tribal Council. The committee requires each guide to report, in person, to them each year.

5. Guides will be required to have clients sign a waiver indemnifying the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon of liability for accidents occurred during guided trips.

6. Guides and employees must have a valid Oregon drivers license.

7. Guides must have insurance appropriate to the trip, automobile and/or boat insurance. Guides must have insurers provide the Harvest Manager and the Risk Management & Property Manager prior to the start of fishing season. Automobile coverage shall be commercial auto or personal auto with liability and uninsured motorist coverage of limits not less than 100/300/50 ($100,000 bodily injury per person, $300,000 more than one person and $50,000 property damage) or $500,000 combined single limit. Coverage needs to cover passengers (if they will be transporting others) and cover owned, non-owned or hired vehicles. If the guide has employees workers compensation shall, as required by Oregon law, and be endorsed with appropriate watercraft coverage (if guiding with boats). The guide shall also have Commercial General Liability insurance with limits of not less than $1,000,000 and naming the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs as an additional insured.

8. Only guides and guides employees vehicles may be used to transport clients on the Reservation. Guides will provide the harvest manager with a photo and license plate number of each vehicle. Client vehicles may not be used to conduct business. Guides must have their company logo visible to the public at all times, that may include hats, shirts or jackets and includes transport boats and cars.

9. The fishing guides will ensure that their non-tribal member clients comply with the Warm Springs Fishing Guide Regulations developed by the Fish and Wildlife Committee and any applicable state fishing regulations. Guides will provide copies of these annual tribal and state fishing regulations to all clients. Clients must have a Warm Springs Tribal Fishing Permit to fish the Reservation side of the Deschutes River in Area 2 (Dry Creek to the Wasco-Jefferson county lines). Area 2 typically is open from the fourth Saturday in April to October 31. The Deschutes may have additional fisheries for hatchery steelhead in November and December, check ODFW regulations each year. Area 2 would still be closed under this scenario.

10. Fishing by foot or boat may take place in the Deschutes River from the Warm Springs boat launch downstream to Whiskey Dick. Overnight trips are not permitted. Fishing Guide Services will only be permitted to launch and take out from the Warm Springs Boat Launch, Annie Dick’s Property (River Mile 85), Whiskey Dick (River Mile 78), and the North White Horse Rapids Area (River Mile 74.5). No other launching or take out areas will be permitted on the Reservation.

11. If guiding is conducted with a vehicle and or by hiking into a fishing area (described above) that is within a Tribal member’s allotment, the operator of the guide service must obtain written authorization from the allotment owner, whose land may be utilized to access the river. The guide must have this authorization document in their possession at all times and the guide must have this documentation on file with the Harvest Manager in the Branch of Natural Resources prior to the start of season. Use of allotted lands without owner’s written consent will subject the guide and clients to citations for trespass. Permitting or securing access to Reservation waters for clients does not, by itself, constitute approved guiding or guide services.

12. Each fishing guide must be in unaided visual or voice contact with their clients at all times, physically directing the clients travel and activities throughout the duration of their angling activities on Reservation waters.

13. Monthly fishing reports must be submitted to the Harvest Manager who will provide them to the Committee. Monthly reports will be in a format developed by the Fish and Wildlife Committee and the BNR-Fisheries Department.

14. Any violation of the rules and regulations applicable to Fishing Guide Services set out in this Resolution will subject the guide to revocation of this permit by Tribal Council’s approval. Violations will be discussed by the Committee and the recommendation sent to Tribal Council.

Be it further resolved that for the 2014 season(s), the fishing guide services owned and operated by: Casey Green, Al Bagley, Randy Nathan, Alysia Aguilar, and Amanda Smith are hereby approved.

(Resolution no. 11,887.)

Go Kart track

Whereas application has been made by Wayne Miller, for a business lease to operate a Go Kart Track/Paintball Arena so named “The Asylum”, a family entertainment center, situated on tribal land described as:

In the Dry Creek area, on Allotment No 588-A, located at the SE/4 SW1/4, NE1/4 SW1/4 SE1/4 of Section 13, Township 9 South, Range 12 East, Willamette Meridian, Jefferson County, Oregon, excepting that portion in the Right-of-Way for Highway 3 and that portion on the west side of Highway 3, containing 5.0 acres more or less,

Map attached as Exhibit “A”, metes and bounds survey to be attached at a later date as Exhibit “B”; and,

Whereas the Tribal Council desires that Tribal Members develop such operations as a private business; and,

Whereas Wayne Miller has been approved by the Private Business Revolving Loan (PBRL) program for the funds to construct the business described herein; and,

Whereas the Bureau of Indian Affairs Realty Office will request an appraisal for the fair market value for a five (5) year business lease rental; and,

Whereas the Warm Springs Tribes hold an eighty-three percent (83%) ownership in Allotment No. 588-A and the Individual Allotment Owners a seventeen percent (17%) combined ownership in said Allotment, all will be compensated according to the fair market value and according to their respective shares; now, therefore;

Be it resolved by the 26th Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of the Warm Springs Reservation of Oregon (“Tribes”), pursuant to Articles V and VIII of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws of the Tribes, that The Asylum, a family entertainment center business operated by Wayne Miller be granted a five (5) year lease in the Dry Creek area on tribal land described herein; and,

Be it further resolved that the Lessor, the Tribes upon approval of the lease, will charge fair market value according to the forthcoming appraisal for the original term of the lease; and,

Be it further resolved that the Confederated Tribes reserves the right to grant rights-of-way over, under and across the lease premises, such a provision to be written into and made a part of the lease terms; and,

Be it further resolved that except as otherwise provided for in the lease agreement, the Confederated Tribes reserves the right to cancel the lease upon thirty (30) days of written notice to lessee, in the event that the lease premises is needed for Tribal community development or land exchange purpose, or for such other substantive reason cancellation may be deemed necessary by the Tribes, such a provision to be written into and made a part of the lease terms; and,

Be it further resolved that the Chairman or Vice-Chair and Secretary-Treasurer/CEO are hereby authorized to execute the necessary documents for and on behalf of the Confederated Tribes. (Resolution no. 11,885.)

vest Regulations” attached to this resolution and marked Exhibit “A”; and

Whereas the Tribal Council has determined that approval and adoption of these Regulations are in the best interests of the tribal members and promotes protective measures for the shellfish resource; and

Whereas the Tribal Council believes that this enterprise furthers the Tribal Policy of promoting self-esteem, self reliance, and employment for tribal members; and

Whereas the fishery is based on recommendations in Scott Lewis’s 1997 Masters Thesis, “Life History, Population Dynamics and Management of Signal Crayfish in Lake Billy Chinook, Oregon and modifications may occur as more scientific information is discovered by the Branch of Natural Resources and reviewed by the Fish and Wildlife Committee; now, therefore,

Be it resolved by the 26th Tribal Council of the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, pursuant to Article V, Sections (1) and (u) of the Tribal Constitution and By-Laws, that it hereby adopts and approves the “Proposed Commercial Crayfish Harvest Regulations.” (Resolution no. 11,881. This fire crew (right) was out at the Shaniko Butte fire last week. By early this week, the blaze had grown to over 50,000 acres, with containment near, as cooler weather arrived. One home on the reservation was lost in this fire. The Shaniko Butte fire burned on the east side of the reservation, while the Logging Unit Complex fires burned to the west. One of the Logging Unit fires was burning in the Sidwalter area, requiring a level evacuation notification, which was relaxed on Tuesday.

To Wasco Co. Fair horse racers

Dear horse racers,

At the Wasco County Fair, as the RVs and tents crowd out what was once the teepee village, we strived to keep the Indian encampment and the programs alive.

Three years in a row my family sponsored the three-quarter mile races. We were honoring our daughter Eliza "Hot Dog"

Greene. I had planned to sponsor the Relay Race this year in honor of our jockey Eliza and her holders, the late Jim Wesley and Oly Meanus. However, I am unable to sponsor it this year because of unforeseen circumstances.

I am very sorry.

Sign of appreciation from community at Warm Springs Fire Management.

retained the funds in his budget for the fire station. They all agreed they would sign, but as fate would have it my grandmother's health started failing, so nothing became of the petition.

One day sitting alone with my grandmother, visiting her prior to her passing, she told me: "We need people to keep fighting for what's right, always be proud of what you accomplished, we (grandparents, parents) all are, no matter what people say or do, you are a strong person; it's in the blood."

I truly believe my inner strength and dedication, I owe to my grandparents!

I have always been proud of my dad and his accomplishments during his 44 years of employment with the tribes, his total commitment, dedication and respect for the people of the Confederated Tribes.

He took pride in his work and it showed: phone calls all hours of the day or night, because people knew my dad would "fix" the issue, even after he retired. He saved in his budget for many years to build the Sidwalter fire station. For that reason alone the building should be named in his honor!

My brother was a dedicated father, son and older brother. He worked for the Confederated Tribes in the Records Department until his passing. He had the biggest heart, laugh and smile. He was someone you could talk to, a good listener, big joker, dressed all wild, would always brighten anyone's day.

In our younger years my brother and I were inseparable. I cherish every moment we had together: laughing, joking jamming to music, even got stuck in the woods once.

His daughter Tyhrecia (Reicie) was the joy of his life.

My humble self: As most of you know I am a strong, proud and dedicated person, knowing, cherishing and respecting in my heart what my parents and grandparents taught my (late) brother and I. Even after losing my only education, fight for what you believe in; rules are the same for everyone (tribal and non-tribal); be accountable for your actions, hold you head up, be proud of what you accomplished. What they meant: don't rely on the Confederated Tribes of Warm Springs, especially to further careers.

Birth

My grandmother served on Tribal Council for 18 years. In her tenure on Council, her belief was "tribal member preference," get an education, rules/policies are the same for everyone (tribal and non-tribal), no special treatment, always fighting for the best interest of the people and our future. She was also the person to push to set up the "rainy day fund," when she kept saying we need to start saving for the unknown. The last term she didn't get re-elected the fund was over $2 million. She would be truly saddened where our tribe has gone and how things have become, because she fought for what was right until her retirement; then her passing.

One final request my grandmother had, after speaking with the Rick, Brent and Tracy Graybael, was, if a petition were started to honor their father (late) Herb Graybael, to name the Sidwalter fire station after him, being it was Herb who

Strong, proud

Hello, my people. My name is Lynn Graybael. My father is the late Herb Graybael, and my mother is Earlynn Squiemphen. My brother is the late Dann Chavez. My grandparents are the late Earl and Rita Squiemphen. Children are Zachery, Aaron and Scott Fluhr.

My mom and I talk every day throughout the day. She has always been there in time of need, through good and bad times. We have always been close, even closer after what we have been through and lost. She is my "rock," very supportive, understanding, caring, loving, a shoulder to lean on, laugh and cry with. Thank you mom for everything you do and have done for me and my lil family.

My grandparents had strong family values: get an son you are. Be thankful for the hard times, they can only make you stronger. "Always leave loved ones with loving words. It may be the last time you see them." Those three phrases are the truth, and that is why "I am strong and proud." Lynn Graybael.

Value our teachers, as new school opens soon

By Bruce Engle
Loan officer
W.S. Credit Enterprise

The new school in Warm Springs opens for the children on September 9.

That facility, the teachers and the staff represent something important to this community and all communities to which the children will someday travel and in which they may eventually live and work.

They will impact their communities. But they won't be maximally effective unless they have help from their parents, relatives, and other community members, as well as from their schools and teachers.

That is what I want to talk about. We have heard it takes two to Tango. Tango is simple. Educating children is vastly more complicated.

Some of you know that I was certified K-12 and taught in the grades, and that I had also been on the faculty at OSU for three years before I became a loan officer some 23 years ago. I believe in schools.

My heart belongs to the children.

I have wonderful memories from those years and have gathered a lot of stories from those days.

I read a new one in The Round-Up from August 29, 2013. Here is some of the best of it.

Dinner guests were discussing life and education. One man, a CEO, decided to explain the problem with education. He said, "What's a kid going to learn from someone who decided his best option in life was to become a teacher?"

He turned to another guest and said, "Bonnie, be honest, you are a teacher, what do you make?"

Bonnie was frank and honest and not about to be bullied. She said, "You really want to know what I make?"

Then she got right down to it.

"Well, I make kids work harder than they ever thought they could.

I make kids sit through 40 minutes of class time when their parents can't make them sit for 5 minutes without an I Pod or movie rental.

I make kids wonder. I make them have respect and take responsibility for their actions.

I teach them how to write and then I make them write.

I make them read, read, read. I make them show all their work in math. They use their God given brain, not the man-made calculator.

I make my students from other countries learn everything they need to know about English while preserving their unique cultural identity.

I make my classroom a place where all my students feel safe. Finally, I make them understand that if they use the gifts they were given, work hard, and follow their hearts, they can succeed in life."

Then she said, "I make a difference in all your lives, educating kids and preparing them to become CEO's, and doctors and Engineers..." and then she finished by saying,

"What do you make Mr. CEO?" He went silent.

Can we all say, "Preparation Is Everything?"

School starts September 9.

May all the children and teachers do well; it's a generational thing.
